Monmouthshire's Key staff contacts

Staff contacts

We've collected a list of some of the people we think you will be interested to find out more about and talk to.

These include some of the senior leaders who make decisions that affect our lives every day, some of our employees who you can bump into and talk to every day. The list is in alphabetical order.

Kellie Beirne

Kellie is Chief Officer for Regeneration and Culture. That means she covers everything from libraries, parks, business and roads to name just a few.

Follow Kellie on Twitter @KellieBeirne.

Simon Burch

Simon is director of social services and so is in charge of looking after Monmouthshire people and families who are vulnerable or need help. Simon is a sax player, a family man and is glad to live and work in Wales.

Follow Simon on Twitter @MCCSimonBurch.

Peter Davies

Peter is Head of Innovation and is always looking to innovate to meet future challenges. His job is to ensure the council is being efficient, that we're working with residents and partners to get things right and he ensures we're being as intelligent as we can be in delivering services on a small budget and Follow Peter on Twitter @PeterWalkerDavi.

Paul Matthews

Paul is Chief Executive and so is responsible for pretty much everything at the council. Ã,Â He tries to do things a little differently here and he manages to find time to manage his local under 14s football team in Llanyrafon.

Follow him on Twitter @PaulMatthews67.

Sarah McGuinness

Sarah is Chief Officer for Children and Young People, is a fluent Welsh speaker and she is excited about learning and improving our schools.

Follow her on Twitter @Ceiliog72.

Moyna Wilkinson

Moyna is Deputy Chief Executive and her clear focus is on putting people at at the centre of our work and looking at people's lives not just their labels.
